ARTICULATE RECORDS ANNOUNCES DEBUT RELEASE: AMELIA RUSSELL'S NAVY BLUE OUT MAY 22, 2026

Eighteen months in the making, the seminal album from singer-songwriter Amelia Russell marks the launch of a new independent label dedicated to bringing a decade's worth of music to life.

Articulate Records is proud to announce its official launch alongside the release of Navy Blue, the seminal album from singer-songwriter Amelia Russell. The record will be available on May 22, 2026, and marks the beginning of an ambitious effort to bring a deep catalog of original music to listeners worldwide.

Articulate Records was founded by Amelia Russell and Jimmy De Lauriea, longtime friends and creative collaborators, with the mission of providing a dedicated home for their music projects. The label reflects a shared commitment to artistic independence and the belief that the music they have written and recorded over the years deserves to be heard.

Navy Blue is the product of eighteen months of dedicated work. The album features original songs written by Amelia Russell, with production and arrangements by Jimmy De Lauriea. The result is a cohesive and carefully crafted debut that sets the tone for what Articulate Records aims to deliver.

"We have been making music together for a long time, and Navy Blue feels like the right way to introduce ourselves," said Russell. "This label exists because we have always believed in this music. We are glad to finally have a place to share it."

Navy Blue is the first in a planned series of releases for Articulate Records. The label has an extensive archive of original recordings spanning back to the 1990s, and the coming year will see continued releases as Russell and De Lauriea work to bring those songs out of the vault and into the world.

Navy Blue will be available on Bandcamp beginning May 22, 2026. Fans can follow Amelia Russell now at ameliarussell.bandcamp.com to be notified at the moment of release.
